BY-LAW 4 - LONE MEMBERS BRANCH

Updated Oct 2024

1. The Lone Members Branch comprises Lone and Associate Lone Members. Lone Members are persons or families without access to a Branch while Associate Lone Members are individuals representing organisations, institutions, and associations.
2. The Branch must have a minimum of 5 members.
3. A Lone Members Officer must be appointed annually by Queensland Council to manage the Branch's administrative business.
4. Lone Members and Associate Lone Members are entitled to the same application and appeal procedures as Ordinary Members, but the Queensland Council must take the place of the Branch in those application procedures.
5. At every Annual General Meeting, General Meeting and Annual Conference, pursuant to Rule 6 and 7 below, the Lone Members Branch is entitled to:
 - a) Two delegates and any number of observers from the Branch, duly nominated and registered. Such delegates must be current financial Lone Members of the Branch.
 - b) Either delegate may be replaced by a duly nominated and registered delegate who is a current financial Lone Member of the Branch.
 - c) When only one delegate from the Branch attends, that delegate may exercise two votes for the Branch.
6. At both State and Federal Conferences, when the Lone Members Officer is a Councillor, the delegates may both be duly nominated and registered financial Lone Members of the Branch. When the Lone Members Officer is an ex-officio appointment of Queensland Council, the Lone Members Officer must be the first nominated delegate.
7. Lone Members wishing to attend conference as delegates or observers must self-nominate to the Lone Members Officer at least one month before Conference. They must also be prepared to self-fund as the Branch is unable to undertake regular fundraising activities.
8. Lone Members may put motions to State and Federal Conference. These motions must be sent to the Lone Members Officer for circulation to Lone Members for affirmation. Motions must then be presented to Queensland Council, who acts in the role of an Ordinary Branch to move, second and debate the motion/s. Motions that are passed are placed on the Conference agenda.
9. Date for the receipt of motions by the Lone Members Officer will be 2 weeks ahead of the closing date set by State and Federal Councils.
