FEDERAL ALLOWANCES

Assistance for Isolated Children (AIC)

If your student attends a primary or secondary school, school of distance education, boarding school, special education facility or rural training college, and;

A. You live at least 16km (by shortest practicable route) from the nearest state school with the required year level and at least 4.5 km from the nearest transport.

B. If you live less than 4.5km from transport, a student may still qualify if the family home is:-

i. At least 56km from the school via the transport service; or

ii. At least 3 hours traveling time per day to and from the school via the transport service.

- Boarding Allowance - income test free. [For families with low income, a means-tested Additional Allowance is available] Students aged 17, participating in an approved tertiary course at an Agricultural, TAFE or similar College are also eligible.

- Short Term Boarding Allowance - where a student needs to stay in town for short periods during the year (e.g., while access from the principal family home to the school is cut off due to special weather conditions), Boarding Allowance is available on a short-term basis. A short-term boarder is entitled only for the number of days they board away from their principal family home. Basic Boarding Allowance and Additional Boarding Allowance for a short-term boarder is to be calculated on a pro-rata basis.
