

NEWS AND VIEWS CONFERENCE REPORT – June 2022

ICPA Qld is all about the people that we represent and continues to showcase the various areas our organisation supports which we strive to bring to you through News & Views.

As Editors we are indebted to you, our members, who continue to provide us with all your Branch happenings and keep everyone in the loop of your branch activities. It is this everyday news that may just inspire other members or branches to try something new or realise that ICPA Qld lobbies to support issues in a particular area they were unaware of.

Through your contributions and the support from our schools we hope we have managed to continue to bring you interesting reading material to fill the pages. Our scholarship feature changed editions and we hope that by moving this edition to the end of December that members were able to organise their scholarship exams with the relevant schools.

Thank you to our many members who sent in photos and information to include in our memories section last year to celebrate the 50 years of ICPA Qld. It was interesting looking back at branch activities throughout the years.

We have had wonderful support from Danielle at Cranbrook Press in Toowoomba who continues to wow us all with her graphics and layout of the magazine. The magazine always looks bright, cheery and appealing to our readers. To Danielle we are very thankful, for without her our magazine would be quite bland.

A big thank you to Noela Wilson, our proofreader, who kindly proofs each edition. Noela has been a volunteer in this position for 20 years. She is very precise with her grammar and punctuation and will no doubt find errors in this report!!

Each edition of News & Views continues to be well supported with relevant reading material and for that we are truly grateful.

We hope you continue to enjoy reading News & Views and we look forward to receiving your contributions for inclusion.
